

Modern Slavery Statement

Last updated May 2024

At Macrovesta, we are dedicated to conducting our business in a manner that reflects our deep commitment to upholding ethical principles and human rights. As a digital commodity consultant working with agricultural commodity farmers and processors around the globe, we recognise our responsibility to ensure that our operations and supply chains are free from modern slavery and human trafficking.

Our Commitment

Macrovesta unequivocally condemns all forms of modern slavery and human trafficking. We are committed to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere within our own operations or in any of the businesses we support.

We believe in treating all individuals with respect and dignity, ensuring fair working conditions, and providing safe working environments. Our commitment extends to ensuring that our partners, suppliers, and clients share these values and adhere to the same high standards.

Reflecting on Global Concerns

Recent news reports highlighting the use of forced Uyghur labour in Chinese cotton production have deeply concerned us. Such practices are abhorrent and run counter to everything Macrovesta stands for. We want to make it unequivocally clear that Macrovesta repudiates this behaviour. It goes against our company ethos, and we have not and will not have any association with any company that breaches human rights.

Our focus is on fostering the environmental and social improvement of cotton production worldwide, supporting initiatives and partnerships that promote sustainable practices and respect for human rights.

Our Actions

To uphold our commitment, Macrovesta has implemented several key actions:

- Rigorous Supplier Vetting: We conduct thorough due diligence on all suppliers and partners to ensure they meet our stringent standards regarding human rights and labour practices.
- Continuous Monitoring: We regularly review our supply chains to identify and address any risks related to modern slavery and human trafficking.
- Training and Awareness: We provide training to our employees and key stakeholders to ensure they understand the importance of our anti-slavery stance and how to identify and report potential issues.

- Transparent Reporting: We commit to transparency and will report annually on our efforts to combat modern slavery, including challenges faced and progress made.

Macrovesta's stance against modern slavery and human trafficking is unwavering. We are committed to continually improving our practices to ensure they reflect our values of integrity, respect, and ethical conduct. By working collaboratively with our partners, clients, and global agricultural communities, we aim to make a positive impact and contribute to the eradication of modern slavery in all its forms.
